I very gorgaous holiday attire comes this large co-tavo volume, with its sumptions full-page illustrations and its profusion of brad and fail pieces. The sulture style is pleasant and easy, occasionally almost conversations, and it is impossible so follow him through the intricacles of his tour without acquiring a deal of information by the way."—Philadelphia Bul-letia.

Poems of Nature.

By WILLIAM CULLEN BRYANT. Profusely illustrated by Paul de Longpre. Svo. Cloth, gilt. $4.00.

"There has probably been no more beautiful, and certainly no more fitting, presentation of Bryant's at-lected work than is odered in this volume. . . Each poem is accompanied by special designs arranged with picturesque irregularity, and the volume is admirably printed. An excellent effect is secured by the use of a little lighter ink for the text."—The Outlook.

The Country School in New England.

By CLIFTON JOHNSON. With 60 Illustrations from Photographs and Drawings made by the Author. Square Svo. Cloth, gilt edges, $2.50.

"Saintine's 'Picciola,' the pathetic tale of the prisener who raised a nower between the cracks of the fagging of his dungeon, has passed definitely into the list of classic books. It has never been more beautifully housed than in this edition, with its fine typography, binding and sympathetic lituatrations."—Philadelphia Telegraph.

The Story of Washington.

By ELIZABETH EGGLESTON SEELYE, Edited by Dr. Edward Eggleston. With over 100 Illustrations by Allegra Eggleston. A new volume in the "Delights of History" Series. 12mo. Cloth, $1.75.

"The book is just what has been needed, the story of the life of Washington, as well as of his public career, written in a manner so interesting that one who begins it will finish, and so told that it will leave not the memory of a few trivial anecdotes by which to measure the man, but a just and complete estimate of him. The lileatrations are so excellent as to double the value of the book as it would be without them."—Chicago Times.

The Brontes in Ireland.

By Dr. WILLIAM WRIGHT. With Portraits and numerous Illustrations. 12mo. Cloth.

"Dr. Wright has faithfully traced the current of groute life and thought back to the hidden sources. The hiography has some surprises in store for tracking the life of the common state of the common state of the common place."—Philadelphia Ledger.

"Despite its scholarly grasp of detail and eareful accuracy, or perhaps because of all this (as truth is finer than fiction) it reads from cover to cover as the life of the child of our artist's fancy rather than a blography. The delusion is curiously strong, proving the literary power of the writer and his knowledge of his material, as well as the ease of the translation."-The Outlook.

THE ART OF THE WORLD.

Containing Reproductions of the Masterpieces of Painting and Sculpture at the Columbian Exposition, with views of the buildings redrawn from official photographs. These Reproductions are Goupil photogravures, Fac-similes in color, and Typogravures,

Masterpieces of Painting. With the special approval of the Artists, Art Commissioners, and Juries of Selection, the masterpieces of modern American, French, English, German, Spanish, Dutch, Scandinavian, and Italian art, &c. which were seen at the Columbian Exposition, were carefully selected for reproduction. They have been photographed by the orthochromatic process. which preserves the color values. These pictures are reproduced by Boussod Valadon & Co. of Paris, the successors of Goupil & Co., whose processes are conceded to be unapproached. Vignette portraits of eminent artists accom pany the reproductions of their works, also portraits of the chief officers of the Exposition.

Sculpture and Architecture. The work contains striking reproductions, often in tints, of the buildings, sculpture, and notable details of the Columbian Expesition. THE ART OF THE WORLD will form a permanent record of America's greatest architectural achievements. For this purpose the publishers have secured the aid of both official photographs and plans, and there are also many pictures by Mr. HARRY FENN, A. CAS-
